

Didn't Lose Them.

Representative Kahn was talking about the extravagance of the shipping board which the recent investigation has revealed. "The shipping board," he said, "claims in a long-winded apology that all these hundreds of millions are not really lost, but this apology, boiled down, only equals Sam Johnson's 'Sam, you've been fighting again,' the mother shrieked. 'You've lost four front teeth.'"

"No, I ain't mother," said Sam, taking a ghastly little package from his pocket. "Here they are."

FALLS OFF STACK

Charleston Painter Killed When Chimney Top Collapses.

Charleston, Aug. 18.—Albert W. Walters, a painter, was almost instantly killed about 7 o'clock yesterday evening by a fall from the smoke stack at the White Swan Laundry, 723 King street. A collapse of the top portion of the stack, about ninety feet in height, was the cause of the fatal accident. Mr. Walters was engaged in painting the stack and was being supported by a scaffold hanging from the top of it.

The work of painting the smoke stack was being done by Mr. Walters, his brother and another painter, and the job was so nearly completed that they expected to finish it before day. When the top of the stack gave way, Mr. Walters was aloft on the scaffold and he was hurled to his death. He fell on a shed at the foot of the stack and from there to the ground. A fracture of the skull and other injuries were sustained, causing almost instant death.

Mr. Walters resided at 7-D street and is survived by a widow and several children. He was thirty-two years of age. His body was taken to the McAlister undertaking establishment.

WILSON VISITS LAW OFFICE FOR FIRST TIME

Washington, Aug. 18.—Woodrow Wilson's first appearance yesterday at his law offices here was taken by his friends as evidence of the former president's improving physical condition. Bainbridge Colby, former secretary of state, and Mr. Wilson's law partner, also was at the new offices where Mr. Wilson spent some time in conference with clients. The firm's quarters are not completely ready for occupancy as yet.

"Mr. Wilson comes down to the office whenever business demands his presence," Mr. Colby said.

With Mr. Colby, Mr. Wilson occupies a suite of offices on the sixth floor of a bank building in the heart of the downtown shopping district. While the offices are somewhat old-fashioned, they are spacious.

ANNUAL TUITION AT TECH FIXED AT $100

Atlanta, Aug. 18.—Every student who attends the Georgia School of Technology during the coming year must pay a tuition fee of $100, according to a resolution passed late Wednesday by the board of trustees after a lengthy session during which President K. G. Matheson presented the grave problem confronting the institution by reason of the legislature's action in reducing last year's appropriation by $12,500.

The trustees declared the assessment of a tuition fee on students was the only way to meet the financial deficiency facing the school and enable it to operate for the entire nine months' term.

President Matheson told the board that Tech would be more than $100,000 short during the coming year. The trustees expressed the belief that the placing of a tuition fee, on all students would reduce the enrollment but that it would net a sufficient revenue for the operation of the institution for the full term.

The resolution assessed a tuition fee upon all students not residents of Georgia of $175, this being $75 higher than the fee heretofore required. Tech asked the state legislature this year for $250,000. Tech got $112,500—$12,500 less than last year. In addition, the legislature voted the school a deficiency appropriation of $29,000, but President Matheson explained to the board that this money was borrowed nearly a year ago and expended.

Georgian Sues for Millions.

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 18.—The remarkable "up-and-down" career of Robert M. Catts, well-known clubman, realty operator and husband of the beautiful former actress, Dorothy Tennant, the famous "College Widow," reaches another milestone in a suit involving millions filed in the federal court in New York city, according to a dispatch received in Atlanta today.

The plaintiff in the action is George F. Hurt, of Atlanta and New York. Through his counsel, Colonel Thomas B. Felder, New York attorney, formerly of Atlanta, Mr. Hurt has made application for the appointment of a receiver for Catts and the latter's controlled companies, the Catts Realty company and the Merchants and Manufacturers' exchange in New York.

The young clubman (he is still in the early forties) is accused of wasting some $2,000,000 through profligate management of New York's great show place, the Grand Central Palace, the lease of which has been controlled by Mr. Catts for almost 11 months. It requires no mathematical mind to figure the average loss per business day (if federal court charges are true) of some $9,000.

Mr. Hurt swears he was promised $50,000 for certain stock apportionments in the Catts Realty company formed by Catts to run the Palace. Catts intended to remodel the building for offices and Colonel Felder said many large expositions had been driven to Chicago by the Catts policy. The effect also is said to have been felt by nearby hotels.

Mrs. Catts, formerly Dorothy Tennant, was at one time prominent as "The College Widow" in the play of that name and as leading woman to John Drew. Her charm and attractiveness won her the sobriquet, "The New Mary Anderson."

A Singer Admirer.

"Do you understand the scientist to whose lectures you apparently listen with so much attention?"

"No," replied Senator Sorghum. "I am interested in him as a man who makes 'em applaud things they cannot hope to understand. I often feel called upon to attempt the same thing in my own business."—Washington Star.

Conservative Neighborhood

"As a patriotic American, Senator Snortsworthy, what is your opinion of bolshevism?"

"I'm for it."

"What?"

"As a theme for oratory. It's one of the few up-to-date topics a speaker can handle with invective, sarcasm and humor down in my part of the country and not run the risk of losing votes."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

PANAMA HATS.

(Bulletin of Pan-American Union)

Most of the so-called Panama hats are made in Ecuador. The material is called paja toquilla and comes from a palm two or three meters high. The leaves are cut just as they are about to unfold, the veins taken out and the fibre remaining is dipped for a few minutes in boiling water to which a little lemon juice is added for bleaching purposes. Each leaf has approximately thirty strands about fifty-five centimeters in length, although the best grade reaches eighty centimeters. The hats can be woven only during the part of the day when the humidity is greatest, since the straw of the best quality is not dampened. A man working six hours a day completes an ordinary hat in six or seven days, but on a very fine one he spends a month and a half; it is the labor, therefore, which makes the hats expensive. The most famous are those of Monte Cristi; they surpass all others in fineness, lightness and perfection.

Missouri Has Too Many Wolves

Odessa Democrat.

At the last session of the Legislature the bounty for wolf scalps was increased to $20 each for grown wolves and $10 each for pups. This is a very radical rise in the price of wolf scalps, as the bounty for many years has been but $6, but wolves have become so numerous that the difference in price denotes the difference to the State between a dead wolf and a live one. It is hoped the new bounty will stimulate wolf hunting in the State, so that the animals will be exterminated. They do thousands of dollars worth of damage in a year.

Uncertainties

"What is your position on this grave public question?"

"My position," replied Senator Sorghum, "is that of a man whom I overheard in the railroad station asking about trains. He couldn't be sure whether he was away ahead of his time or way behind it."—Washington Star.
